'The Holy City' Presented By Choral Society

KREINER DIRECTS SACRED
CANTATA

The Taylor University Choral Society under the direction of Professor Raymond F. Kreiner presented a sacred cantata, "The Holy City" by Alfred R. Gaul Sunday evening, June 2, in Shreiner Auditorium. This Baccalaureate Sunday evening presentation of the choral society was the climaxing event of the Taylor University Music Department.

The first part of "The Holy City" was suggested by the passages of Scripture, "Here have we no continued city," "Thy kingdom come," and sets forth the desire for a higher life as expressed in the words, "My soul is athirst for God", which desire is followed by other passages expressive of the perfection of the higher life, such as "Eye hath not seen". The second part was suggested by the words, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away," this realizing the desires and promises contained in the first part. With the exception of two hymns, a verse from Milton and three verses from the Te Deum, the words are entirely Scriptural. The members of the choral society who had solo parts in the cantata were Virginia Royster, soprano, Mildred Huber, contralto, Robert Titus, baritone, John Betzold, baritone, and Claire Myers, tenor. A girls' quartet composed of Dorothy Weaver, Betty Walker, Frances Peck, Marion Phillips and a mixed quartet composed of Claire Myers, Virginia Royster, Mildred Huber, Lauren York sang the special quartet arrangements in the cantata. Professor Bothwell accompanied the chorus at the organ.

Thirty-Five Seniors Will Be Graduated Today

Pres. Emeritus Is Honored

Dr. Monroe Vayhinger, president emeritus of Taylor University was honored in the Tuesday morning chapel service in celebration of his eightieth birthday. President Stuart stepped from the platform and escorted Dr. Vayhinger to the platform, and after presenting him with the president's seat for the service expressed to the student body, faculty, and visitors words of appreciation of Dr. Vayhinger for his service to the school in the years that he served as president, and words of admiration for the success that Dr. Vayhinger has had in the evangelistic field since his retirement as president of Taylor University.

In further expression of appreciation for Dr. Vayhinger the school will unveil a life size picture of Dr. Vayhinger in connection with the commencement exercises.

Editor Ralph Lewis Presents Annual

PUBLICATION DEDICATED TO DR. B. W. AYRES

By Paul Moon

One of the features of the closing of school was the presentation of the 1935 Gem to the student body, faculty and alumni last week. This presentation of the Gem, which climaxed a years work of planning and construction by Mr. Ralph Lewis, editor-in-chief, and his staff was the concluding event of publication day at the publication staff banquet, on Tuesday evening in the dining hall.

The Gem this year was produced by the staff with the aid and through the efforts of the Delaware Engraving Company of Muncie, Indiana who made the cuts for the book, the Scott Printing Company of Muncie, Indiana who printed and had the book bound, and the Forkner Photography Shop of Anderson, Indiana, photographers for the book.

The 1936 Gem is well balanced in its presentation and carries a beauty and charm throughout its pages that is appealing and beautiful. The organization of the material divides the different phases of school life into what one might term a book in itself. The photographic section is an outstanding feature of the first sections as it displays both a realistic and an artistic display of the campus and buildings. The other departments and sections are also treated in a manner that is worthy of commendation.

Mr. Ralph Lewis and his staff are to be congratulated upon the 1935 Gem. Its pages show the fruits of thorough planning, cooperation, and achievement.

HAMANN SELECTED BY PHILALETHEANS

The Philaletic Literary Society held its last session of the current school year in recreation hall Saturday afternoon, June 1. After giving an expression of appreciation for the cooperation from the society for the past year Mr. Robert Jacobs, president of the society, opened the floor for nominations for the position of president. Mr. Cecil Hamann was chosen by the society as its new president. The other officers chosen

Bishop Cushman Will Give Commencement Address

COMMENCEMENT SEASON IS CLOSE OF TAYLOR'S
EIGHTY-NINTH YEAR

Preparations for the commencement exercises on June 4 are being made by the administration of Taylor University. At nine-thirty the procession of the faculty and seniors to the Maytag Gymnasium will open the climaxing service of the school year, when thirty-three seniors will receive their degrees.

Bishop Ralph S. Cushman of the Denver area of the Methodist Episcopal Church will bring the commencement address preceding the conferring of degrees by Dr. Robert Lee Stuart. Bishop Cushman is one of the outstanding speakers of Methodism, and will undoubtedly bring a message that will stir the hearts of all present. Special music will be presented and the University orchestra will play the processional and recessional.

Those who will receive degrees follow:

Master of Arts in Theology: John McCreery, Gaston, Indiana.

Bachelor of Arts: Blaine Bishop, Seircleville, Indiana; Crystal Lockridge, Tipton, Indiana; Mary Louise Lewis, Hartford City, Indiana; Nelson Bastion, Brillion, Wisconsin; Robert Titus, Spartensburg, Pennsylvania; Gordon Herrmann, Upland, Indiana; Derward Abbey Corning, New York; Wayne Allee, Wichita, Kansas; Mollie Bell, Rittman, Ohio; Mae Brothers, Hartford City, Indiana; Robert Dennis, Worcester, Massachusetts; Ralph Findley, Westford, Pennsylvania; Ivan Hodges, St. Petersburg, Florida; Robert Jacobs, Goshen, Indiana; Evelyn Kendall, Wyandotte, Michigan; Verlin Kruschwitz, Marine City, Michigan; Dorothy Lewis, Irondale, Ohio; Ralph Lewis, Corning, New York; William McClelland, Merchantville, New Jersey; Clarence Miller, Elmore, Ohio; Peter Pascoe, West Collingswood, New Jersey; Milton Persons, St. Charles, Minnesota; Olive Severn, Lakewood, Ohio; Charles Stuart, Upland, Indiana; Lula Tinkle, Upland, Indiana; Robert Weaver, Delaware, Ohio; Lauren York, Mooers, New York.

Bachelor of Science in Education: Ruth Coby, Union City, Indiana; Dewitt Fowler, Hamburg, New York.

Bachelor of Science: Mabel Frey, Filabusi, South Africa; Russell Jacobs, Goshen, Indiana; Ralph Long, Kokomo, Indiana.

Taylor Students Are Guests at Hartford

A group of Taylor students were entertained Saturday evening, June 1 at the home of Mrs. Duff, south of Hartford City. The dinner party, which was in the nature of a farewell party for those of the senior class who have been guests at the home of Mrs. Duff was of a delightful nature. The guests who were present were: Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Jacobs, Robert and Russell Jacobs, Miss Virginia Beckrink, Miss Dorothy Porter, Mr. Ralph Finley, Miss Betsy Ross, Mr. Lauren York, Miss Grace Benedict, Mr. Robert Titus, Miss Mae Brothers, Miss Dorothy Weaver, and Mr. Robert Weaver. The decorations and meal were delightful as was the charming hospitality of the hostess, Mrs. Duff.

Dr. Ayres to Be Honored

Dr. Burt W. Ayres will be honored by Taylor University at the commencement exercises Tuesday morning when the institution will confer upon him the Degree of Doctor of Laws. The members of the faculty voted at a recent session to confer upon Dr. Ayres this degree, which is the highest honor that the institution can give. Dr. Ayres has served the University for thirty-four years. He was on the faculty from 1897 to 1906 and returned in 1910 to serve up to the present time on the faculty and as administrator. Dr. Ayres is a graduate of Taylor University, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree, Master of Arts degree and his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the institution.

Taylor University will confer another honorary degree on Tuesday morning, the Degree Doctor of Divinity, upon Rev. Thomas Hopkins Morris of Buffalo, New York. Rev. Morris is pastor of the Plymouth Methodist Church at Buffalo, New York.

Stuarts Entertain Senior Class

SENIORS ENJOY BREAKFAST
AT CEDAR CROFT

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Stuart entertained the Senior Class Saturday morning at Cedar Croft, the president's home at the last social event for the year, the Senior Breakfast. This event has become an annual event as Dr. and Mrs. Stuart have entertained the senior classes at farewell breakfasts for the past several years.

The music for the occasion was furnished by Mr. David Bane and by the senior male quartet. Mr. Bane sang several solos during the course of the meal including "Silvia" and "Trees". The senior quartet composed of the former members of the Taylor University Varsity quartet, Robert Dennis, Robert Titus, Ralph Long, and Lauren York sang "Keep a-Inchin' Along" and "The Riches of Love".

The program other than the music consisted of an expression of welcome by the hostess, Mrs. Stuart, a response by the president of the senior class, Mr. Blaine Bishop, and a pastors farewell by Rev. Fox.

COOKINGHAM TO HEAD THALONIAN SOCIETY

The Thalonian Literary Society was called together in special session Saturday June 1, for the purpose of electing the officers of the coming year. During the meeting the members of the society were privileged to hear a brief account of old Thalo activities from Dr. C. E. Smith of Detroit, a graduate of the class of '89.

The following people were elected to act as officers:

President, Charles Cookingham; vice president, Grace Hall; secretary, Martha Lee Richardson; treasurer, Norman Jerome; chairman censor board, Rebecca Talbot; Rush Day chairman, Clayton Steele. The society is anticipating a successful year under the leadership of these officers.

Baccalaureate Address Given By H. M. Gage

SERVICE OPENS FORMAL
COMMENCEMENT EVENTS

Chorus Sings

The commencement services proper opened on Sunday morning with the eighty-ninth annual Baccalaureate services held in the Maytag gymnasium at ten-thirty. The University Orchestra furnished the music for the processional of the faculty and seniors.

Dr. Harry M. Gage, president of Coe College, delivered the address. Dr. C. E. Smith of Detroit, class of '89, read the Scripture, following which Dr. R. L. Jacobs gave the invocation. An anthem, "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling-Place" was rendered by a student choir.

"What hast thou in the house?" was the text of Dr. Gage's message. The phrase is taken from fourth chapter of II Kings, verse two, being Elisha's question to the widow whose oil was increased miraculously to pay her debt. Mr. Gage emphasized the statement that the end product of the miracle is always the increase of that which was had at the beginning. Applying this to life, the speaker stated that there must be original character, prepared by training for the great miracle of accomplishment for Christ and service for the world.

Dr. Gage has been one of the outstanding leaders of the North Central Association of Colleges, being at present the chairman of an important commission. He has been outstanding as a leader among the different councils of church education boards. Coe College, located at Grand Rapids, Iowa, is one of the leading colleges of the middle west.

Gem, Echo Staffs Are Honored With Banquet

CLIMAXING EVENT FOR PUBLICATION GROUPS

The Gem and Echo staffs were the guests of the school Tuesday evening May 28 at a publication banquet in the west section of the dining hall sponsored by the faculty committee of student publications. The event brought to a close the second annual publication day for the staffs of Taylor publications. In the morning chapel service the names of those who have served on the two staffs were read and the ribbon awards would have been made had there been time.

The banquet section of the dining hall was decorated in the school colors with the tables arranged in the form of a "T." The tables were lighted by candles and the decorations were in harmony with the school colors.

Professor Fenstermacher presided as toastmaster, and President Stuart gave the invocation. The introduction of outside guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Scott, printers of the Gem, and Mr. and Mrs. Freese of Upland, printers of the Echo. Dr. Stuart was introduced by the toastmaster and gave expression to a feeling of appreciation for the cooperation and the efforts of the staff during the past year. Mr. Weaver was then introduced who in turn introduced the Editor elect Mr. Crosby De Wolfe. A glue bottle symbolic of the dummy work on the paper was then presented to Mr. Walter Randall, managing editor elect. Professor Fenstermacher next introduced Mr. Ralph Lewis who presented the Gem to the group. After several expressions of praise to the Gem staff for their work done on the book and an observation of the book itself the banquet was dismissed.

REGARDS

This evening as the last edition of the Echo goes to press I have conflicting emotions for while the commencement not far distant announces the opportunity for service, there is with this current edition of the Echo a feeling of sadness, for the proofing of the last page of the dummy announces the last opportunity to serve the student body, faculty, alumni, and friends on the publication staffs. As we members of the Echo write the last pages of this edition we recognize that our paper throughout the year has not been all that it could have been. We recognize further that in many instances we could have improved the quality of the contents by taking more time — yet in spite of all the difficulties that have faced the staff there is a slight satisfaction that we did our best to incorporate in the pages of the various editions items of interest in relation to their importance. We recognize that at all time we have not given the proper write-up to various items and have no doubt failed to mention some things that should have been given space in the publication; still we feel as we draw near the close of the year that we did our best.

I could name many individuals on the campus who have been of great help during the year, but to President Stuart, Prof. Fenstermacher, the publication committee, and Mr. Guy Duckwall I wish to express a personal word of appreciation for their interest, advice and assistance throughout the year. The staff have cooperated in the work throughout the year and to them, as editor, I would like to give an expression of appreciation.

It is with a sense of disappointment that I finish my last Echo editorial, but as I write these last paragraphs I pause in spirit to thank God for His help and His strength during these past four years. I thank Him for making it possible to come to Taylor and I praise Him for meeting me here on Taylor's campus.

To Mr. De Wolfe I wish the greatest measure of success for the coming year and I am sure from my work with him on this year's staff that he will be able to lead next year's Echo staff in the editing of one of the finest semi-weekly publications that Taylor has had.

My last words of praise are for the institution that cares for the soul. As I leave her campus I pray that God's richest blessings will abide with her in the future.

GEORGE MULLER

It would seem that a striking parallel exists between the needs of Taylor University and the needs of George Muller, that sainted orphanage worker of England, who through prayer received 1,500,000 pounds without asking man for one penny.

A veritable modern-day Elijah who received from God that which he asked in faith, this man proved to a sceptical world that the God who created the world and the things therein still controls the resources of this world. Feeling that God was leading him into orphanage work among the outcast children of his adopted England, this man of faith bore a worldwide witness to the unbounded assets of Almighty God. If George Muller could do for his orphanages what he did do through the efficacy of mighty prayer coupled with an undaunted faith, what cannot be wrought in this present hour for the needs of Taylor University? Surely another George Muller is needed at this moment for God is ready and willing to bear witness to His sovereign power if the right circumstances but present themselves in the way of prayer and faith on the part of His believing children.

Looking at the narrative of Muller's life as a whole, certain prominent peculiarities must be noted. We have here a record of seven conspicuous experiences:

1. An experience of frequent and at times prolonged financial straits.
2. An experience of the unchanging faithfulness of the Father-God.
3. An experience of the working of God upon the minds, hearts, and the consciences of contributors to the work.
4. An experience of habitual hanging upon the unseen God and nothing else.
5. An experience of conscientious care in accepting and using gifts.
6. An experience of extreme caution lest there should be even a careless betrayal of the fact of pressing need, to the outside public.
7. An experience of growing boldness of faith in asking and trusting for great things.

May it be that we who believe in Taylor University and love this institution which has given us much, will remember that the same God who met George Muller will meet us today if we but fulfil the Divine conditions.

— Wistar Hodge

ON HUMOR

What is humor? Webster gives the definition as, "any element in a situation or event that appeals to the sense of the incongruous." Continuing, I find that incongruous means "inappropriate" or "unsuitable for given conditions." Therefore, what is incongruous is inappropriate and what is inappropriate is out of order, therefore not proper. Hence, I find that humor is improper, a thing to be shunned.

Further investigation discloses to me that it takes but fourteen muscles to smile, whereas it takes sixty-four to frown. My deductions from these statistics lead me to say that we should frown more and smile less. Are not the health bulletins ever telling us to exercise? Look how much more exercise one can get from frowning than from laughing. But that is beside the point. I want to discuss two forms of humor. First, the lowly pun, and second, the absurdity known as irony.

A pun is the lowest form of humor ever conceived by man. Puns are words that are similar in sound but different in meaning. For example, let us take Huey Long. Huey Long is in Congress, but he is also incongruous. Since he is incongruous, he is out of order, and any man who is out of order in Congress must sit down. That, my friends, is a pun. It works on this order. Huey Long is incongruous (inappropriate). He is also in Congress (National Assembly). So you see he is incongruously in Congress and is quite incongruous. That is how a pun works. It is demoralizing, it is degrading. Let me entreat you who read this to abstain from the use of puns. They will turn your hair grey and send you to an early grave. This is indeed a grave situation.

Irony is a much more subtle form of humor. As I have shown before, however, it should be done away with. Irony expresses a meaning contrary to the thought given. Think what a mess things would be in if everybody went around casting ironical remarks. We would all go crazy trying to figure what people really mean when they speak to us. Do we want our children to become a generation of wits or half-wits? Do we ourselves want to retain our sanity?

Frankly I say, down with humor, down with puns and irony. Let us preserve the sanity of our nation. Young people, are we ready to meet this challenge? —

Dick Haley.

RESOLUTION

Through the ceaseless battering of the waves of time on the shores of our lives, the sands shift and disappear, while the solid rock remains, unshaken and eternal. Those unstable useless works of our lives are soon removed, lost in oblivion; the achievements of stern purpose remain.

At the end of natural periods of time we usually reflect on the events that have taken place. The end of this school year brings to us the memories of nine months of enjoyments, opportunities, failings, growth, and accomplishments, memories that bring mixed feelings of disappointment and satisfaction. Looking back we see the unfinished tasks, the wasted hours, the unused opportunity, the things that would not have been so had we been able to see them then as now. But also we see the advancement to greater things, the deepening of character, things well done, a decision made, a faith strengthened.

Such moments are times of resolution. Seeing that the results of sincere effort are good, we determine still to press on; seeing that the result of following ease and inclination is worthless, we resolve to conserve our strength for the noble in the future.

Yet how few things stand the test of time. Five years, ten years, a hundred years, what remains? Our ordinary lives are lost in the oblivion of the unknown. The life record merely reads, "Born, married, died." Is this all? Then life is swallowed up in death, victory in defeat.

May our lives be formed of the immovable, and founded on the unshaken. Day by day, year by year, let us rise above the insignificant, and let our minds be set on the eternal goal before us. Let our strength be His strength; our work, His work; and our will, His will. "Though much is taken, much abides; and though we are not now that strength which in old days Moved earth and heaven; that which we are, we are; One equal temper of heroic hearts, Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

The time has arrived when farewells must of necessity come. This has been a great year but every good thing in life must come to an end and we march forward to something better.

The larger alumni group of Taylor will in a few days welcome the infant class of 1935 into her ranks. We hope that she may be proud of this group and most of all we hope that every member of this class will be busy and doing some creative work. Most of all for the benefit of the oncoming editor of this column we hope that they write a report of what they are doing back to their alma mater.

The news is very miscellaneous. It has been reported that a large group of the alumni is returning for Commencement so if you desire more news come and see them in person. We will hear first from some successful ministers. Rev. L. M. Banner of the class of '24 is preaching at Willock, Pennsylvania. Rev. Edwin A. Briggs also of the class of '24 is the pastor at Kanawha, Iowa, after he graduated from Taylor he took his seminary work at Iliff School of Theology at Denver, Colorado. He is now back in the pastorate. Rev. Henry T. Chattin of the class of 1905 is preaching at Walworth, New York. Rev. W. A. Christensen, of class of 1915, of Stockton, California, is having a good pastorate in the Central Methodist Episcopal Church and has been invited to return for his fifth year. Marvin Stuart, '31 has accepted a pastorate in California and he and Mrs. Stuart, '30, are leaving soon for California. Rev. Walter H. Lugibihl, '32, is pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church at Peoria, Illinois. He is just completing a building project which will give them an auditorium with an additional seating capacity of five hundred people. Rev. W. V. Miller, '1905, is located at Yorkshire, New York. His daughter also graduated from Taylor in 1922. The Rev. R. A. Ragsdale of Shelbyville, Indiana is a very enthusiastic alumnus and successful pastor. Fred MacKenzie, '32, has accepted a charge in the Troy Conference in New York. Rev. and Mrs. Willard McLaughlin of the class of '24 and '25 respectively and who are missionaries to India have changed their address from Bangalore to Belgaum. Rev. Martin R. Davis, '23 has moved from Hansell, Iowa to Florida. Thus we see that Taylor's ministers are advancing in their work throughout the country and the world.

Now we come to those who are working in the field of education. Harold L. Baine, '27, will be Dean of Boys at the Endicott High School at Endicott, New York, next year. This work will begin in September. He has been a teacher in the high school there for several years.

Richard Fox, '33, is working for his Doctor of Philosophy degree which he expects to receive from New York University in June 1936. Jacob Boo is teaching Latin and German at the West Virginia Wesleyan College.

The class letter of '31 arrived recently so there is some interesting news in it. Mrs. George Klein, formerly Carol Severn, writes that she and her husband have recently been notified that their application for missionary service has been accepted by the Board of Managers of the Christian, Missionary Alliance. They are to go to the Gabon, French Equatorial Africa, this fall. They plan to stop in France while on their way to Africa. Bernice Kendall is teaching in the high school at Concord, Michigan this year. Sadie Lucas is still convalescing from a very severe illness. Anderson Long is employed in the two Civilian Conservation Corps Camps which are designated to Mosquito Eradication work. He is located at Lewis, Delaware, the town where the first Dutch settled in America in 1631. Kenneth Hoover is enjoying a very successful pastorate at Putnam Valley, N. Y. Kenneth Fox is a very successful Presbyterian preacher in Northumberland, Pennsylvania. Dale Russel, '31, sings regularly over the radio from a New York station, W H N. George Lee has been attending Butler University doing work on his Master of Education degree which he will complete next Christmas. He expects to attend school all summer. He will be principal of the schools in the town and township at Westfield, Indiana next year. He will have a teaching staff of twenty-one teachers and the high school enrollment for the past year was one hundred and seventy-five students. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bickler are enjoying their work at the Mizpah Faith Home at Fredricksburg, Pennsylvania. They write the following: 'As are the rest of you, we are trying to develop and enlarge our field of work since we came we can see considerable progress. The institutional plant has been modernized and improved, thus far largely on the inside. We have enlarged our number of foster homes so that at present we have twenty-six in boarding family homes and fifty-five in free homes, besides the twelve in the institution, which is used as a receiving home and for problem boys. Their work has been that of placing children in homes, supervising such placements and investigation of prospective homes. This concludes the news of this letter and we extend best wishes to the Class of '31.

This concludes the news of alumni for this year. Your kindness to send in news has been greatly appreciated. Vacation lies ahead and then a new year, until then, Best Success!

CAMPUSNOOZE

Dr. Monroe Vayhinger celebrated his eightieth birthday last Tuesday. On Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Cottingham invited him to their suite for a little party. The other guests who were invited were Dean and Mrs. Holiman, and Misses Sadie Miller, Guiler, Gibson and Foust.

Mrs. Raymond Shirley and the twins, Wayne and Warren, were guests of Miss Dare and the kitchen force recently.

Miss Pauline Allbritten, of Kansas, is visiting her sister, Professor Allbritten, and will remain on the campus till after Commencement.

Miss Esther Ross of the class of

'33 is visiting friends on the campus. Miss Ruth Tabber of the class of '33, who is teaching in the Detroit schools, arrived Saturday to spend a few days on the campus as a guest of Miss Dare.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Miss Frances Hunter, who has been suffering severe effects of ivy poisoning for more than a week.

Miss Virginia Longnecker of Newton, Iowa, is here visiting her sister Louise Longnecker.

Miss Olive Maude Himelick, a former student of Taylor University, who is now teaching in Fairmount, was a recent guest of Miss Dare.

On Monday afternoon at four o'clock, in Magee Parlors, a Senior Social hour was sponsored by Miss Foust, the guests being Miss Elizabeth Stuart, Mrs. Cornwell, Miss Gates, and Miss Kinser.

The senior class enjoyed its traditional holiday on May 12, when the members took a much needed rest from studies to have an outing at Epworth Forest, Lake Webster, grounds of the largest young peoples institute in the world. Accompanied by "Hersh" Cornwell, the class sponsor, and Mrs. Cornwell and Harriett Ann, the class slipped away early in the morning, motoring to Lake Webster, and returning in time for "lights out".

Features of the day were two ball games, a blindfold boat race, and the evening camp fire service. Mae Brothers, assisted by other girls of the class, prepared three excellent outdoor meals, which were well received by the hungry seniors. Evelyn Kendall excelled in the ball games, even outplaying Coach Cornwell. A blindfold boat race was a unique event in which contestants rowed toward the goal in all directions. The more adventurous donned bathing suits and went swimming in the nice warm waters of the lake.

The day approached a perfect ending with the outdoor supper which was climaxed by gallons of ice cream. The campfire service that followed was impressive and reflective. The old varsity quartet, Bob Dennis, Bob Titus, Ralph Long, and Lauren York, sang several numbers, closing with the theme song, "I Want My Life To Tell For Jesus", which struck a responsive note in the hearts of the seniors. With ties of friendship more closely knit, the seniors wended their way back to Taylor, feeling that the day's experience had united them more than ever as a class, and refreshed them for the commencement season.

ESTER BAKER IS HOSTESS AT MOUNT CARMEL

Saturday evening, May 11, the sophomore class journeyed to the home of Esther Baker for their spring picnic. The program of the day began with a short ball game between the Lautenschlager "Germans" and the Moor "All-stars". After a few other sports the eager sophs started on a search for the great (?) treasure. At the snap of the gate latch they were off. But only after much tramping and seeking and finally a hint was the treasure discovered. Betty Lee Peck being the happy finder of it—a baby rattle.

The starving red-jackets were treated to an over-abundance of food about the blazing bonfire. Following this the annual election took place. The officers elected were Robert Lautenschlager as president, Cecil Hamann as vice-president, Hazel Bloss as treasurer, Ethel York as secretary, Robert Yunker as student council representative, Garfield Steedman as chaplain, Jack Miller as chairman of Junior rules committee and Marjorie MacKeller as chairman of the Junior-Senior banquet.

The surprise of the evening, at least to one, came after the group had adjourned to the house. Professor Fenstermacher, class sponsor, presented a magazine rack to Betty Lee on behalf of the sophomore class. Betty promised to keep it dusted in her new home.

The class of '37 then returned to the Taylor campus after the best class picnic it had ever had enjoyed.

Excellent Work Done by Students In Local Churches

Among our students there are those who faithfully serve the Lord Jesus Christ in active service every Sunday, and whose names seldom appear in the gospel team reports. Yet they are accomplishing as great, if not greater work for the Master, and may be facing a more discouraging task. These serve as Sunday-School teachers, and as leaders of children's and young people's organizations in local churches. This article purposes to give recognition to such workers.

Dorothy Crandall teaches the high-school girls' Sunday-School class at the Upland Friends Church. She is ably assisted by Mildred Macy. Clarence Miller has been serving as Sunday-School superintendent at the Upland United Brethren Church, and also teaches a class there. Muriel Sutch assists in this church in various ways, as teacher, secretary, and sometimes pianist.

Mabel Frey teaches a Sunday-School class of boys at the Wesley Church in Matthews, and is boosting the weekly Sunday evening young peoples' service which was recently organized.

Alvin Strong has been helping on Sunday afternoons in the Junior League work and preparatory church membership classes at the Upland M. E. Church. De Witt Fowler serves as an usher in the Methodist Church. Margaret Kellar is assistant secretary of the Sunday-School. Margaret Trefz is leader of the children's missionary band known as the King's Heralds.

Other students are members of the Church choir. Special music numbers for the morning worship are furnished largely by students of the School of Music.

Elizabeth Stuart, Jo B. Gates Are United in Marriage

WEDDING HELD IN PARLORS: PRES. STUART, AND REV. GATES OFFICIATE AT CEREMONY

Elizabeth Stuart

The wedding on Wednesday, May 29, of Miss Mary Elizabeth Stuart and Jo Bernard Gates, was a pre-commencement event of unusual importance. The single ring ceremony, which was read jointly by President Robert Lee Stuart, father of the bride, and Rev. Edwin Lee Gates, the groom's father, took place in the Campbell-Magee parlors of the girls' dormitory. The guest list included besides the families of the bride and groom, the faculty and student body of the college. The bride was given away by her father, Dr. Robert Lee Stuart.

Preceding the ceremony Professors Theodora Bothwell and George Fenstermacher gave a fifteen minute piano-violin recital, including the following numbers: "Oh That We Two were Maying" by Nevin, "Oh, Promise Me" by DeKoven, "At Dawning" by Cadman, "The Golden Wedding" by Gabriel-Marie, and the Violin Concerto, "Romance" by Wieniawski, and ending with the triumphant strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March as the bridal party appeared. During the ceremony Miss Bothwell played softly "Liebestraum" by Liszt. The bridal party left the parlors to the usual wedding march by Mendelssohn. Mr. Robert Dennis of Worcester, Mass., sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony.

The parlor was decorated with palms and ferns, mock orange blossoms and spiraea and pink roses, pink and white being the bridal motif. A floral archway received the bridal party. The bride was charming in her mother's wedding dress of white crepe de chene over taffeta. The dress was worn twenty-seven years ago by Mrs. Stuart.

Breakfast Is Given For Campus Visitors

A three-course breakfast was served by Misses Edith Charbonnier, Anna Jo Duckwall, Anna Pearl Calvert, and Sarah Mae Calvert.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mrs. Nina Brewster, Miss Florence Kinser and Miss Edith Brewster, of Beckley, West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. William M. Stuart, of Chicago; Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Lee Gates, Richard, Martha, Robert, and David, of Logansport, Indiana; Miss Edith Sudlow and Miss Virginia Longnecker of Newton, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Bachtelle of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. C. W. Stuart; Misses Anna Pearl and Sarah Mae Calvert, of Syracuse, Indiana.

Foreman: "There's Jim carrying two ladders at a time, and you are only taking one."

Pat: "Sure, Jim's too lazy to go back twice."

Employer: "Late again; have you ever done anything on time?"
Employee: "Bought a car."

Alumni Groups Hold Joint Luncheon Monday

Monday noon was one of the outstanding events of the entire commencement week when the alumni of the Fort Wayne Methodist College and the alumni of Taylor University held a combined luncheon in the dining hall. Much enthusiasm was displayed in the meeting and many of the graduates of the former Fort Wayne Methodist College were present. President U. S. A. Bridge of the Fort Wayne College Association presided.

At 2:00 in the afternoon the alumni association held their annual meeting. All former graduates and alumni of both Taylor and the Old Fort Wayne School were invited and a goodly number were present at the meeting. Monday evening was the climaxing event for the alumni group when the former graduates joined together in the annual alumni banquet. The fellowship, which was so delightful last year was prevalent again this year in the meetings of this group.

Taylor Loses Last Game To Huntington Foresters

GAME RUNS OVER INTO 11th INNING IN REPETITION OF EARLY GAME

Taylor closed the baseball season by beng nosed out in the eleventh inning of a pitchers duel. Phil Miller, Taylor's brilliant hurling star, tossed as nice a ball as could be desired. He allowed only five hits in eleven innings; he and Smithurst negotiated five strikeouts and only one free ticket to first. Looking back over previous games of the season we find that Taylor presented the best battery of its short athletic career.

In the first inning with two out, Smithurst worked his way to first via a free ticket. The Gibber then proceeded to do his usual stuff by stealing second. He advanced to third on a passed ball; but failed to score as Phil grounded out, second to first. Huntington opened their half of the inning by receiving a gift of one base on balls. The next man up flied out to Hamann. Pegan forced the runner at second, Phil making the throw to Kegerries. The third out came when Thatcher flied out to L. Miller.

The third inning opened with L. Miller grounding out. Kegerries singled. Taylor's famous battery, now coming to the rescue, singled in order, scoring "Keg." Huntington threatened with a single; but Phil and Keg were on their toes and caught the gentleman day dreaming off second. Mignery now up singled but was left stranded on second when Phil and the Gibber whiffed the next two men in order.

The eighth inning was all Smithurst. He led off with a single and proceeded to steal second. He so upset the equilibrium of the Huntington boys that they handled the old apple very recklessly, the result being, Gibby scored.

The ninth inning was the turning point of the game. With the score standing at two to nothing Taylor. Huntington tied things up. The eleventh inning brought the climax. Pegan of Huntington hit a single. He later scored when Taylor had the misfortune of committing two costly errors.

Tennis Team Takes Victory From Anderson

The Taylor net men proved their superiority over the Anderson College racket wielders Saturday May 25. This is the second time that Taylor has conquered Anderson. The match was held on the local courts.

The visitors, as expected, displayed games built upon sliced strokes, while the Taylor boys pinned their hopes upon drivers. The match was interesting because the local men were forced to come up from behind in several cases.

Kitchen Force Has Annual Picnic At Park

Members of the Taylor University dish-washing and dining hall force enjoyed an early morning breakfast and outing Saturday morning May 18 at the Upland community park.

At five-thirty the workers assembled outside the kitchen and then walked north to the community park. The feature of the morning was a soft-ball game between the kitchen boys and waitresses, and the dishwashers. Jack Holder's stellar hurling for the kitchen boys was overbalanced by the fielding of the dishwashers, who led 7-6 when the whistle blew for breakfast. The call to "come and get it" was then answered. In ten seconds the dole line was completed, and soon the picnickers were enjoying one of Miss Dare's celebrated outdoor spreads, consisting of weiners, hamburgers, beans, spring onions, coffee, cookies, and mixed strawberries and pineapple. Following the meal everyone walked back to the campus.

The kitchen force picnic is looked forward to each year by the workers, who appreciate Miss Dare's interest in their enjoyment. Such occasions are the kind that help make the Taylor "family spirit" and make labor a reward in itself.

Howard-Gates Trophy Awarded 'Chuck' Stuart

HAS BEST REPRESENTED T. U. THROUGH ATHLETICS

"Chuck" Stuart

The members of the "T" club voted the Art Howard-Jo Gates Trophy to Charles Stuart as expressive of the Taylor athlete who has brought the greatest honor to Taylor University through athletics. This trophy, which is being given this year for the first time, is awarded to the Athlete who brings through the medium of athletics the most honor to Taylor University. The donors of the award emphasized the qualities of ability and sportsmanship as determining factors for the "T" club to choose the athlete for the award.

Mr. Stuart is to be congratulated for the fine spirit shown in his athletic endeavors and for his ability and true sportsmanship which entitled him to be named the first Taylor athlete to be honored with the trophy given by Mr. Howard and Mr. Gates.

Stuart Ties Record At Big-State Meet

Charles Stuart representing Taylor in the Big-State Meet at Purdue Saturday afternoon in the high and low hurdle events tied the former meet and state record for the low hurdles in the trial or qualification race. The Taylor flash was unfortunate to stumble at the finish in the finals after leading the field and was forced by the accident to take a fourth position in the fastest hurdle race that has been run in the history of the meet. The new record set for the race was 23.5. Sandbach of Purdue won first place and set the new state record.

Taylor can be proud of this feat as "Chuck" was competing against representatives from some of the largest schools in the state. The meet itself was a record-breaking session as seven records were broken for the state. The events in which records were broken were the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, low hurdles, shot put, discus, and the javelin throw.

Taylor Plans Attractive Fall Athletic Program

Huntington Gives Tennis Team Bad Defeat

The Taylor netters suffered their worst defeat in three years when they failed to register a single win against the Huntington Foresters, Saturday, June the first.

The feature battle of the day was the number one singles match between Johnson of Huntington and Linn of Taylor. Johnson, playing his last inter-collegiate tennis, called upon every ounce of experience and skill to preserve a marvelous record of only on defeat in a regular match in four years of competition. Linn put up a great fight for victory but found the opposition too stiff. In the first set Linn with the score 4-2 against him, emerged with the set 8-6. In the second set Taylor's number one found himself on the short end of a 4-1 count before he steadied and won three straight; but the handicap was too great and the veteran Johnson won 7-5. In the deciding set Johnson, famed for his steadiness began to "hit the lines", but managed to pull through and win 6-3. Linn deserves much credit for his fine showing. An indication of the closeness of the match is the fact that fifteen games went to deuce.

Long, playing number two wilted after a fine start under the hot sun and seemingly impossible "gets" of his opponent and was defeated 6-3, 6-1.

Haines put up a marathon exhibition in which little real tennis was shown. He lost in three sets. Both boys played too cautiously.

The doubles team composed of Linn and Haines was broken up by the length of a match. This probably explains one loss as the team is undeated this year. Stuart substituting for Haines, did well but showed lack of practice.

Summary of the singles

Johnson (H) defeated Linn (T) 6-8, 7-5, 6-3
Cook (H) defeated Long (T) 6-3, 6-1
Humbert (H) defeated Haines (T) 3-6, 6-3, 6-3
Skinner (H) defeated Yingling (T) 6-3, 6-4

Doubles

Johnson and Cook defeated Linn and Stuart 6-4, 6-4
Skinner and Humbert defeated Long and Haines 2-6, 6-1, 6-4
Match Score 6-0 Huntington

ADVANCE SPORTS NEWS GIVEN BY NEW ATHLETIC EDITOR

(By Paul Moon)

Taylor is planning an attractive athletic program for the coming fall season. For the information of those not acquainted with athletics at Taylor we would like to state that Taylor does not encourage professionalism in athletics. The Taylor rule for athletic competition is, high scholastic standing, hard play, and be a gentleman at all times. The value of athletics is often placed too low. We would like to refer you to an article by Gates in his book "Psychology of Education." In this book we find this quotation, "The study of latin trains the reason, the powers of observation, comparison and synthesis. The pursuit of mathematics gives command of attention and results in the strengthening and training of the reasoning powers. For developing the character, strengthening the will and cultivating a wholesome temperament there is no discipline superior to athletics. Will power and attention are educated by physical training." With this lesson in mind, let each and everyone of us avail ourselves the opportunity to benefit through this type of training.

Taylor is planning to have a baseball season this fall. The team received some valuable training this spring and will be ready to represent Taylor this fall. We extend to you an invitation to join us at play.

Track meets will be held as usual. Taylor needs more men for the track team. We regret the loss of such fine young men as "Chuck" Stuart, "Milt" Persons, "Dee" Fowler, and Gordon Herrmann.

When the frost comes we will come inside and direct our efforts to basket ball. Taylor must hold up the record set up by last year's team. With the support of the student body and the efforts of the team we can play winning ball.

Many of us know Professor Cornwell. If you want to know "Hersh," the man, join one of the athletic groups and meet him in the capacity of coach.

Spring is the time of parting. Fall is the hour of reunion. Fall is the time that the "Taylor famly" again gathers around the table. So here is to fall, may we meet again to work and play together; to hold Taylor's Banner high.
